A Bachelor of Commerce (B.Com) program aims to equip students with a strong foundation in business principles, accounting, finance, and related areas, preparing them for diverse career paths in the corporate world, entrepreneurship, or further academic pursuits. Key outcomes include developing analytical and problem-solving skills, enhancing communication and teamwork abilities, and fostering an understanding of ethical and global business practices.

Specific Program Outcomes:

Knowledge and Understanding:

- Acquiring a solid understanding of core business principles, including accounting, finance, economics, marketing, and management.
- Developing expertise in areas like financial accounting, cost accounting, taxation, and auditing.
- Gaining knowledge of business law, company law, and other relevant legal aspects.
- Understanding the role of technology in business and developing basic computer skills.

Skills Development:

- Analytical and Problem-Solving Skills: Analysing financial data, interpreting business information, and developing solutions to business challenges.
- Communication Skills: Effectively communicating ideas both orally and in writing.
- Teamwork and Collaboration: Working effectively in teams to achieve common goals.
- Quantitative Skills: Applying mathematical and statistical techniques to solve business problems and analyse data.
- Decision-Making Skills: Making informed decisions based on sound business principles and data analysis.

Professional and Ethical Development:

- Developing a strong sense of professional ethics and social responsibility.
- Understanding the importance of ethical conduct in business and professional life.
- Developing leadership skills and the ability to work in diverse and globalized business environments.

Career Prospects:

- Preparing students for a wide range of career opportunities in various industries, including finance, accounting, marketing, management, and human resources.
- Providing a foundation for further studies, such as MBA or specialized master's programs.
- Equipping students with the skills and knowledge to pursue entrepreneurship and start their own businesses.

In essence, a B.Com degree aims to create well-rounded graduates with a strong foundation in business principles, equipped with the skills and knowledge to succeed in a dynamic and competitive business environment.
